FAQ

What military regulations provide guidance for evacuation allowances?

Joint Travel Regulation (JTR), Chapter 6: Evacuation Travel, is used for military and civilian employees and their dependents.

If local government officials issue an evacuation order and the installation commander has not issued an evacuation, do I evacuate?

Local government officials cannot dictate when entitlements start for federal government. Entitlements will only begin after the installation commander implements an evacuation order.

Are AirBnB and similar websites authorized for lodging?

Yes. For evacuations, AirBnB and similar websites are authorized, but valid receipts for lodging reimbursement are required. Additionally, not all of the additional fees that these sites charge are reimbursable.

What sorts of other expenses are NOT reimbursable?

Home preparation expenses, automobile expenses (repair, maintenance, oil etc.), grocery bills, nonofficial calls, ATM fees for personal credit/debit/ATM cards, or internet/Wi-Fi.
